

JUSTICE (and humor) FOR ALL

(A monthly humorletter) July 2000

This humorletter contains both clean original humor as well as clean bits of humor that have found their way to me via Email. Many times the original author is unknown so if you read something here that you find very funny it's OK to assume that I wrote it.

You have my permission to reproduce and distribute any items you'd like as well as the entire humor letter just so long as you are doing it for free and not for profit.- Enjoy!

Humor and Training Tip #37

Get some professional help! There is only so much you can learn from books and tapes. No matter how great you think your delivery is, you can benefit immensely from either engaging a humor coach or taking comedy classes.

If you're not in Georgia and can't study with me, call your local comedy club and find out who teaches.

A good teacher will help you punch up your stories, hone your delivery and nail your timing.

Improvisation classes can also make you quicker on your feet and better off the cuff.

Humor Tip #35

In my programs on embracing change, I refer to "Haw" a character in Spencer Johnson's "Who Moved My Cheese?", who realized that he started to change as soon as he learned to laugh at himself and at what he had been doing wrong. He discovered the fastest way to change is to laugh at your own folly-then you can let go and quickly move on.

It's his character "Hem" who won't let go of the past, sees change as being unfair and can't laugh at himself who is doomed by his own actions. It's a great, simple book which I recommend to anyone facing change.

If your organization is experiencing change, call today to find out more about my program.

What recent attendees had to say

Jeff, what a great job you did last week in Nashville. I cannot remember the last time one of our speakers received a standing ovation!! D Sessions P.K.M

Jeff spoke at the AAA Symposium which I attended. I have not laughed as hard or as long in ages. Thanks! M.P. RSMI

Our chairman, Duane Ackerman, laughed so hard he had to wipe his eyes! C.A. BST

"How to Ad Lib Like a Professional (or just look like one)"

The sales have been great and reviews are even better!

Send $10 + $2.50 shipping today and see why it sold out within minutes at the Georgia Speakers Association's last meeting.

You'll never speak the same again!
