

JUSTICE (and humor) FOR ALL
(A monthly humorletter) May 1997

This humorletter contains both clean original humor as well as clean bits of humor that have found their way to me via Email. Many times the original author is unknown so if you read something here that you find very funny it's OK to assume that I wrote it. You have my permission to reproduce and distribute any items you'd like as well as the entire humor letter just so long as you are doing it for free and not for profit.- Enjoy!

Questions to Make You Think

Why doesn't glue stick to the inside of the bottle?
Can you be a closet claustrophobic?
Why is the word abbreviation so long?
Is it possible to be totally partial?
What's another word for thesaurus?
If a book about failures doesn't sell, is it a success?
Is there another word for synonym?
If the cops arrest a mime, do they tell him he has the right to remain silent?
If a parsley farmer is sued, can they garnish his wages?
When it rains, why don't sheep shrink?
Should vegetarians eat animal crackers?
Do cemetery workers prefer the graveyard shift?
If you're in a funeral procession at night, do you drive with your lights off?

Humor and Training Tip #9

Practice! Practice! Practice!

Once you've decided to put humor into your program, practice it over and over until you own it. If it's a joke then try it on everyone without announcing it. The biggest mistake people make with jokes is telling them before they really know them well enough to be comfortable. How can the audience laugh at a joke when they can tell that you're not comfortable telling it?

Humor Tip #8

If you've never used humor in your conversations or presentations, start small and add a little at a time according to your comfort level. Don't start your next program with, "OK! It's Showtime"!

Things You Don't Want to Hear During Surgery

Someone call the janitor - we're going to need a mop.
That's cool! Now can you make his leg twitch?!
What do you mean, he wasn't in for a sex change...!
Ya know, there's big money in kidneys...and this guys got 2 of 'em.
Bo! Bo! Come back with that! Bad Dog!
